UNPARALLELED EXPERIENCE

The Buckles Group is your partner in protecting your investment, enhancing your ability to compete and establishing institutional and cultural values in your company that will sustain your success.

- Our team was created with a simple, straightforward mission – to help companies meet their legal and regulatory compliance requirements and institutionalize a culture of integrity.
- Our team is unmatched in the breadth and depth of their experience.
- Our team has years of corporate and government experience and understands how both worlds operate.
- We provide a wide range of legal and compliance services including government contract

- administrative support, alcohol and tobacco regulatory compliance and physical and facility security compliance.
- We are a Woman Owned Business with Women’s Business Enterprise National Council Certification eligible to perform work for the government.
  - We are able to help you with sound legal and consulting services that will help you understand the real risks your organization faces.
  - We will work with you to develop a coherent risk management strategy and guide you along the way to ensure your products, services, and operating practices adhere to the relevant laws and regulations applicable to the work you do.

GUIDANCE YOU CAN TRUST

The Buckles Group provides expert evaluation and implementation services customized for your company.

Whether its legal advice, compliance program consulting, training, government contract administration, navigating through the alcohol and tobacco regulations, risk assessments, or the development of policies and procedures, we provide impactful recommendations to improve your business.

Our goal is to reduce your vulnerabilities and risk and minimize your exposure to liability.

We think outside the box. Our consultants look for innovative ways to address compliance issues, including developing customized Compliance & Ethics Technology Systems (CETS) to help manage personal conflicts of interest and federal revolving door requirements.

EXPERTISE

We’ve been there and have faced the same challenges and opportunities your company sees each day. Our team has worked in the government, with non-profits, and with publicly held companies. Our team has the ability to work with you regardless of the situation or demands. We deliver expertise that crosses boundaries into every facet of your company, with hands on strategic, financial, legal, and technological proficiency. We are here to help you do what’s right!
